PASSING OUT PARADE OF HC/DCPO

The 16th Batch of Head Constables Drivers-cum-Pump Operators (DCPO) of the CISF Fire Wing successfully completed their 38 week long Basic Training at NISA/FSTI. On 21st February while the colourful flags fluttered in the spring breeze, 52 hearts were in a flutter as they marched past the saluting base proudly donning their firemen helmets and gum boots.

In a display of their fire-fighting prowess, the personnel of the FSTI ably demonstrated an array of appliances used for fighting different types of fire. As the DCP tender left a carpet of foam on its trail, there was no doubt in any mind that these demonstrators were capable of putting out any fire – all except the fire of hope and promise that had been kindled in the hearts of the men who passed out on this day.

Shri P.V.K.Reddy, IPS, DIG, NISA, took the salute on the occasion. HC/DCPO T.B.Thapa was awarded trophies for ‘All Round Best’ performance and for ‘Best in Indoor subjects’, while HC/DCPO T.T.Yadav received the trophy for ‘Outdoor Best’.

REPUBLIC DAY CELEBRATIONS

This Republic Day had a special significance, being the first of the new millennium; an occasion that marked a clear break from our colonial past. It was only in order then that there be a break from the conventional parade held on this day every year. That came in the form of an impressive display of 'Malkhamb' by personnel of the FSTI, following the parade.

'Malkhamb', an ancient Indian Martial art form that dates back to the Epical Age of the 'Mahabharata', assumed its present form when it was adopted by Chhatrapati Shivaji to train his soldiers in warfare. It combines gymnastic and acrobatic skills to produce a repertoire of exercises designed to develop physical fitness, agility and endurance, besides artistic finesse. This is achieved through a combination of postures called 'Pakads' and key 'asanas' of Yoga like padmasan, parvatasan, dhanurasan, Mayurasan, Shavasan, etc. Based on a wooden pole called "Khamb" that served as the pivot of all activities, these performers made several formations combining a synchronised harmony of dovetailed postures to represent structures such as fort (kila), tower (minar), lotus (kamal), chariot (rath) and so on.

A "Mighty Art" : Malkhamb show on Republic Day

Addressing the gathering on this day, Shri P.V.K.Reddy, DIG,NISA termed it an occasion for introspection and hope. Hailing the rich heritage of our composite culture, Shri Reddy stressed the need for caution not to be swept off by the western culture even while making the most of the new vistas of opportunities, particularly in the technological sphere, that the new millennium has brought in its wake. "Let us shed negativity from our mind, develop our personality in a holistic manner and dedicate ourselves to the service of our nation," he said.

WORK BEGINS ON NISA HOSPITAL

There has been a long felt need for a full fledged hospital in the campus to replace the dispensary that is serving primarily as a referral centre. A step towards making good this deficiency was taken on 5th

February when the Union Minister of State for Urban Development, Shri Bandaru Dattatreya, laid the foundation stone for the NISA Hospital in a ceremony that was attended by senior officers of the CISF and CPWD as well as the staff and trainees of NISA.

To be constructed at a cost of Rs. 1 Crore 66 lakhs, this two storeyed structure will house an Operation Theatre, Casualty Ward and facilities for X-

Ray, ECG and Pathological Laboratory besides having 20 beds for in-patients.

On this occasion, Shri Dattatreya announced the institution of a Rolling Trophy for the All-Round Best performer in every Batch of Sub Inspectors (Exe) Basic Course. Earlier, welcoming the Honourable Minister to the Academy, Shri P. V. K. Reddy, DIG, NISA, lauded the commendable initiative shown by Shri Anant Ram, Chief Engineer(Civil) and his team of CPWD Engineers and hoped that they would maintain a similar tempo of activities in days to come. He stated that with NISA becoming a multiplex of sorts encompassing the FSTI, Group HQrs and Ordnance Base Workshop, provision of health care facilities for the growing numbers in the campus was a major priority on the agenda.

ONE STOP SHOP FOR NISA

It will be a one-stop-shopping-cum-services centre, as the canteen, cafeteria, flour mill, bakery, grocery, milk vendor, barber, cobbler and carpenter shops shift to the new Tradesmen Complex of NISA expected to be ready by July this year.

At the site across the road from the new Hospital under construction, the DIG, Shri P.V.K.Reddy, laid the foundation for the Tradesmen Complex on 16th February. Shri Anant Ram, Chief Engineer (Civil), CPWD and other senior officers of the CPWD and CISF participated in the ‘Bhoomi Pujan’ – a familiar sight in NISA these days with the spurt in construction activities in the campus. Being constructed at a cost of Rs. 72 lakhs, the Tradesmen Complex, along with the Hospital and the Family Welfare Centre which is to be constructed in the vicinity, will render this location a hub of family activities in the campus.

CHILDREN’S DREAM LAND

On the 25th of January, Smt Manga Reddy presided over a ‘Fancy Dress Competition’ in which students of the NISA Nursery School gave form and content to their dreams and fancies by assuming the garb of different personalities. There were, among others, Lord Krishna extolling the virtues of ‘Karma’, the gallant Sikh symbolising valour, and the venerable Shankaracharya spreading the message of ‘Bhakti’, but the common thread that bound them was the purity of their hearts, the greatest treasure we nurture at NISA Nursery School. The competition was followed by a variety entertainment show put up by the children.
